

A photograph showing the hands of two people clasped together. One person is wearing a dark blue short-sleeved shirt and light-colored pants. The other person is wearing a black and white striped long-sleeved shirt and blue denim overalls. The background is a blurred outdoor setting with a wooden railing.

UMF Spring 2021 Graduate Course

EDU 506 Poverty and Education

Study the influence of income on the well-being of children, youth, and families

Using interdisciplinary research students in this course will:

- Explore resilience and ways that children can avoid the negative outcomes of living in poverty
- Study perspectives from economics, sociology, psychology, and education
- Come to understand how poverty impacts education
- Examine the multiple contexts children are growing up in

This 3 credit course is offered entirely online with three synchronous online meetings.

If you have questions or would like help registering please email gradstudies@maine.edu or call 207-778-7502

Learn about the full range of programs at:
www.umf.maine.edu/grad-studies/